

Only One Month Left Before WHA Workforce Forum – Register Today

WHA is hosting a Workforce Forum in Madison, and we hope you and your teams can join WHA and your peers on Sept. 13 for a day of learning together.

The 2023 WHA Workforce Forum will provide an opportunity for hospital and health system leaders and industry stakeholders to learn about and share ideas for how to grow the health care workforce faster, retain and sustain our health care workforce, truly leverage technology, and break down burden and burnout for health care workers.

WHA's expert team will create the framework for the current and future state of Wisconsin's health care workforce, and participants will leave with an improved understanding of how their organization, health care stakeholders and state and federal policymakers can work together to support the workforce needed to sustain Wisconsin's high-quality, high-value health care with a shrinking workforce and growing demand. For the full agenda, click here.

For more information on this event, including registration, click here.

Sponsorship and exhibiting opportunities are available to WHA corporate members. For more information, contact WHA Vice President of Education and Marketing Leigh Ann Larson.

Other Articles in this Issue

- WHA CEO Borgerding Joins Wisconsin Health News Panel to Discuss State Budget, Workforce Challenges
- U.S. Dept of Labor Files Suit in Wisconsin District Court Against UnitedHealth TPA Over Improper Claims Denials for Employer Self-Funded Plans
- WHA 2023 Nominating and Awards Committee Seeking Nominations
- Only One Month Left Before WHA Workforce Forum – Register Today
- Last Week to Submit Your Application for the Global Vision Community Partnership Award and Grant
- Register Early for Annual WONL Conference for Chance to Win Green Bay Packers Tickets