

Advocacy Day Registration Surpasses 650 with 8 Weeks to Event

While WHA's Advocacy Day is still eight weeks away, over 650 people have registered! Secure your spot today for this powerful opportunity for hospital employees, trustees and volunteers to make a visible impression in the state capitol. This event offers a chance to connect, learn and influence critical health care issues.

Attendees will hear from a variety of influential speakers, including a fireside chat with Green Bay Packers Head Coach Matt LaFleur and WHA President and CEO Eric Borgerding. During this session, LaFleur and Borgerding will discuss the importance of leadership in ever-changing environments. They will also share insights on guiding diverse teams in dynamic organizations.

Pre-registration is required for Advocacy Day. To register or to learn more about the event, click here and read below:
