

Registration Open for 2023 Post-acute Care Conference

WHA is proud to announce the 2023 Post-acute Care Conference. This annual event will be held on Aug. 24 in Wisconsin Dells.

This year's agenda brings together some of the top experts in the post-acute space, including Wisconsin Division of Quality Assurance (DQA) Administrator Otis L. Woods, MBA, QIDP. For a look at the full conference agenda, click here.

The Post-acute Care Conference provides an opportunity for colleagues working on patient care transitions from a variety of positions and perspectives to gather in person to learn from each other and hear from a strong group of presenters.

Sponsorship and exhibition opportunities are available for WHA corporate members. Contact WHA Vice President of Education and Marketing Leigh Ann Larson at 608-274-1820.

For more information about the conference, including registration, click here.

Other Articles in this Issue

- DHS Notifies Hospitals, Others that CDC has Updated its Infection Prevention and Control Recommendations
- Registration Open for 2023 Post-acute Care Conference
- GUEST COLUMN: Exploring Alternatives to Long-Term Care Coverage: Permanent Life Insurance
- WHA Information Center Offering Free Virtual Training Session on Kaavio
- WHA Expresses Concerns with Congressional Subcommittee's 340B, Site-Neutral Proposals